PLEASANT VIEW BAPTIST CHURCH

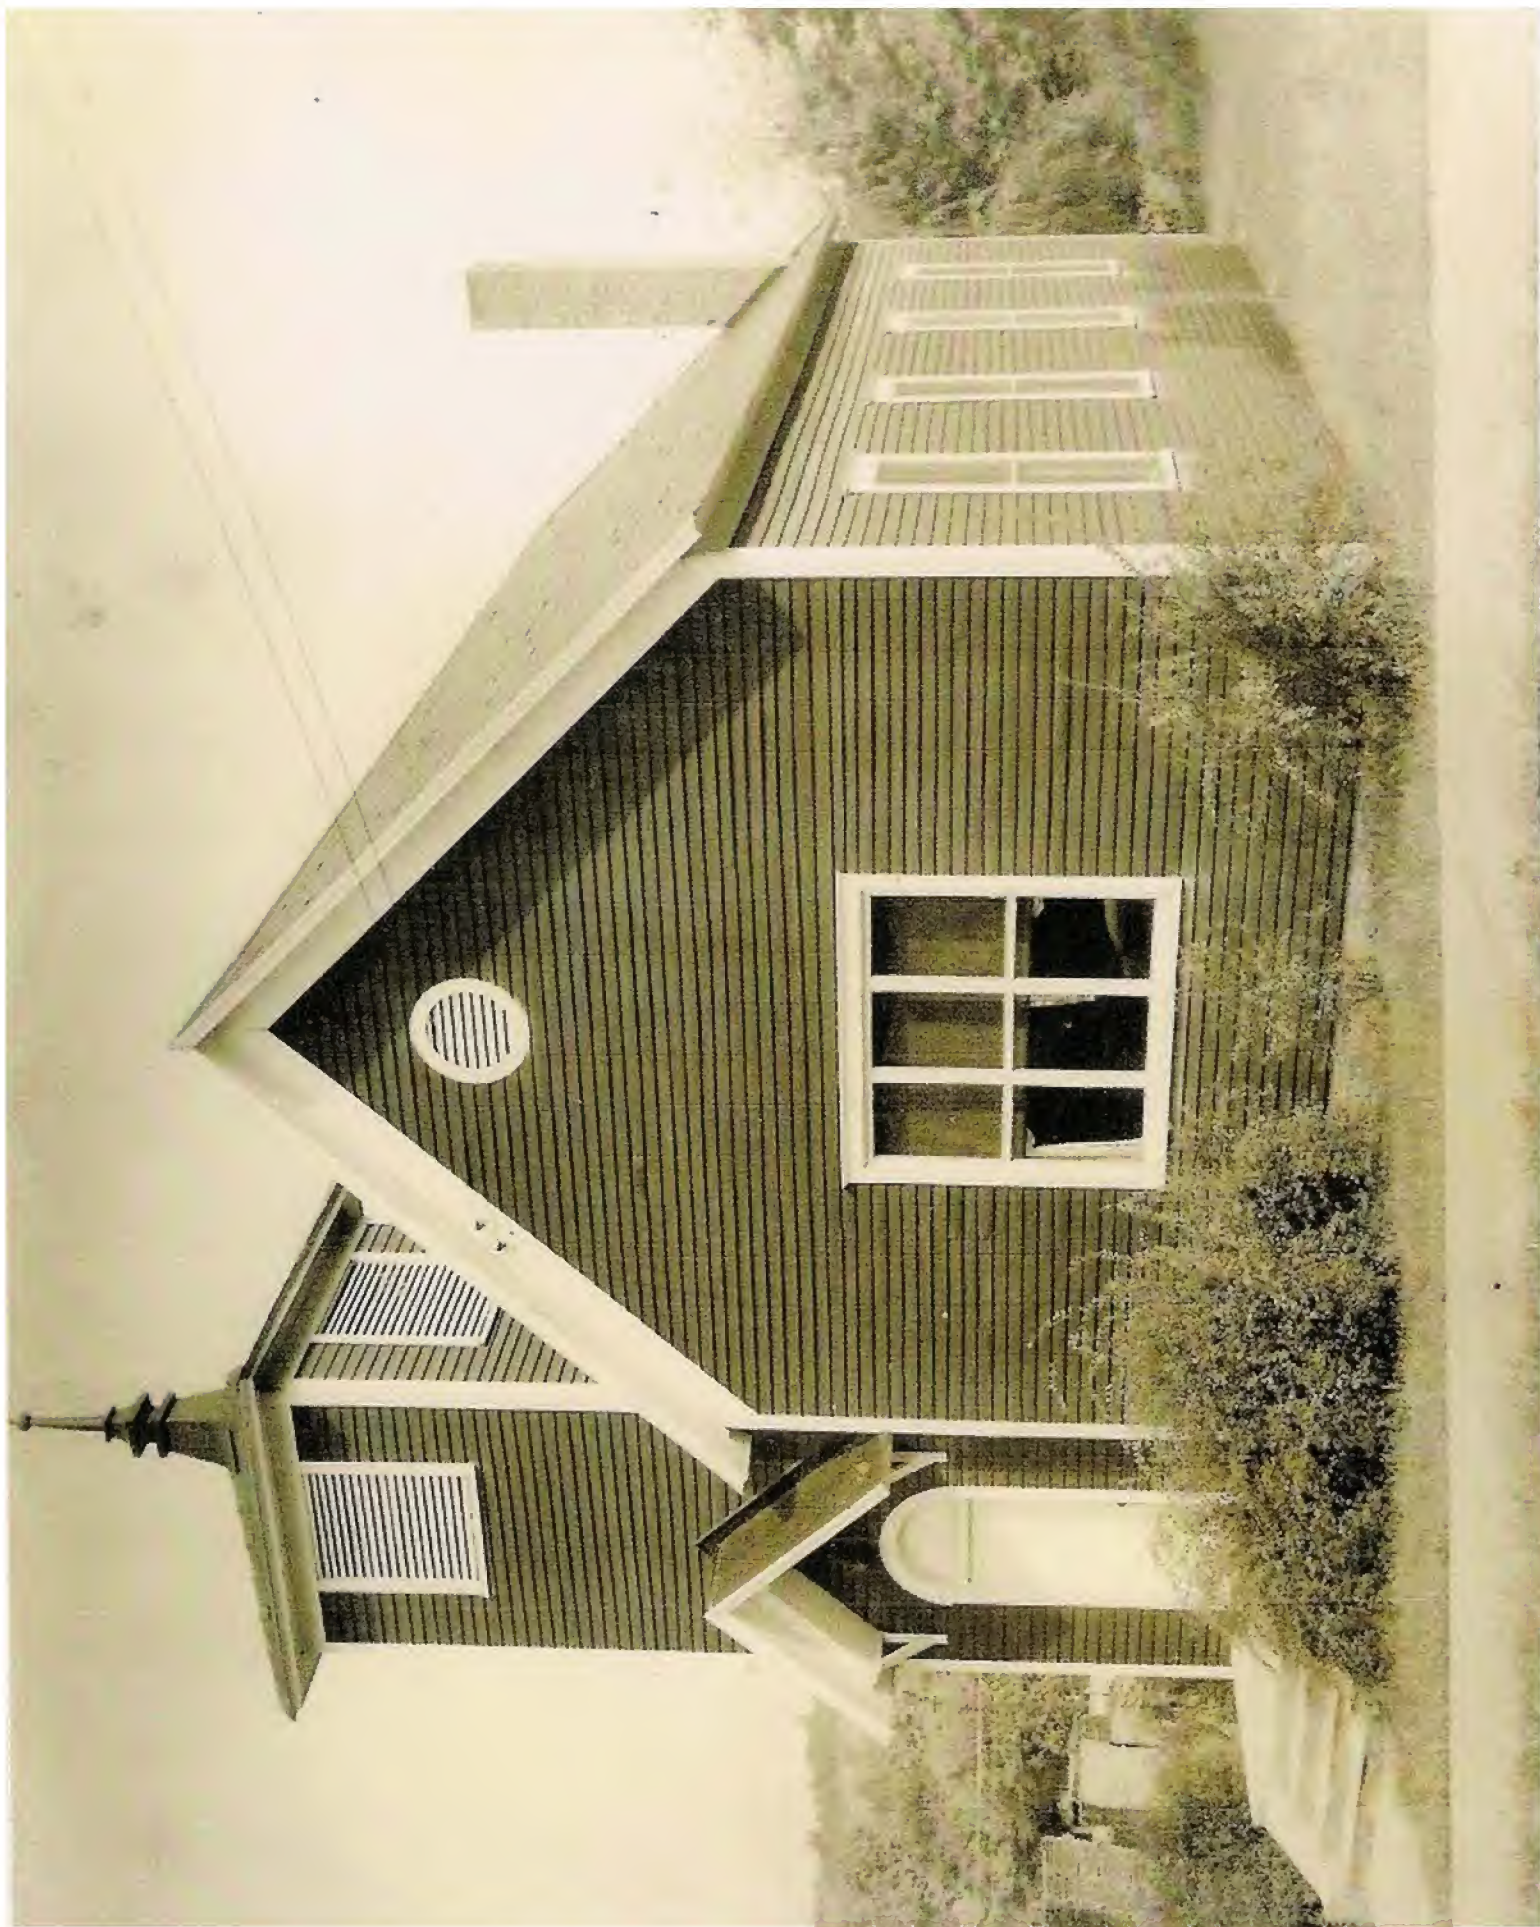

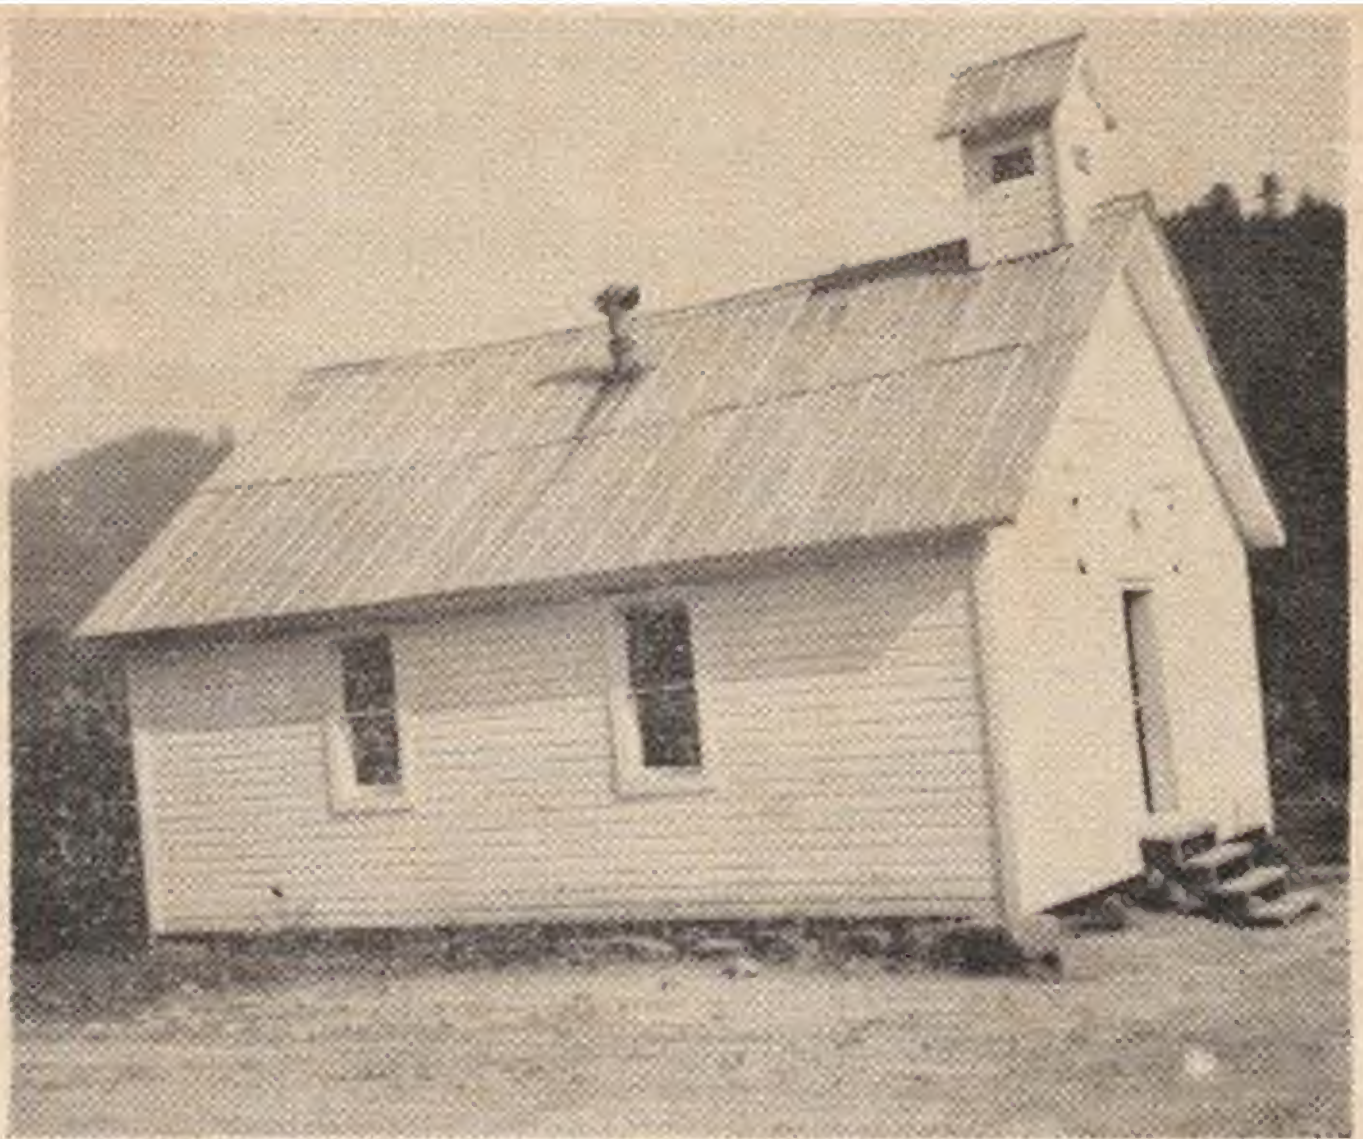

The Pleasant View Baptist Church was organized on March 3, 1888. The church was first called the United Baptist Church of Christ. It first met in the Pleasant View school building. There were nine charter members: Tyrol Siler, Mary Siler, Melda Campbell, Dinah Troutman, Nannie White, Rebecca Croley, Amy Slaton, Maniriva Rains, and Susan Tyer. The moderator was Starlin Stanfill.

There were church services once a month at first and then twice a month. The Pleasant View Baptist Church had its first full time pastor in 1950. Rev. Raymond Smith was elected the first full time pastor. During this time the parsonage was also built. The present church building was built in 1964. Rev. John Hornsby was pastor at that time.

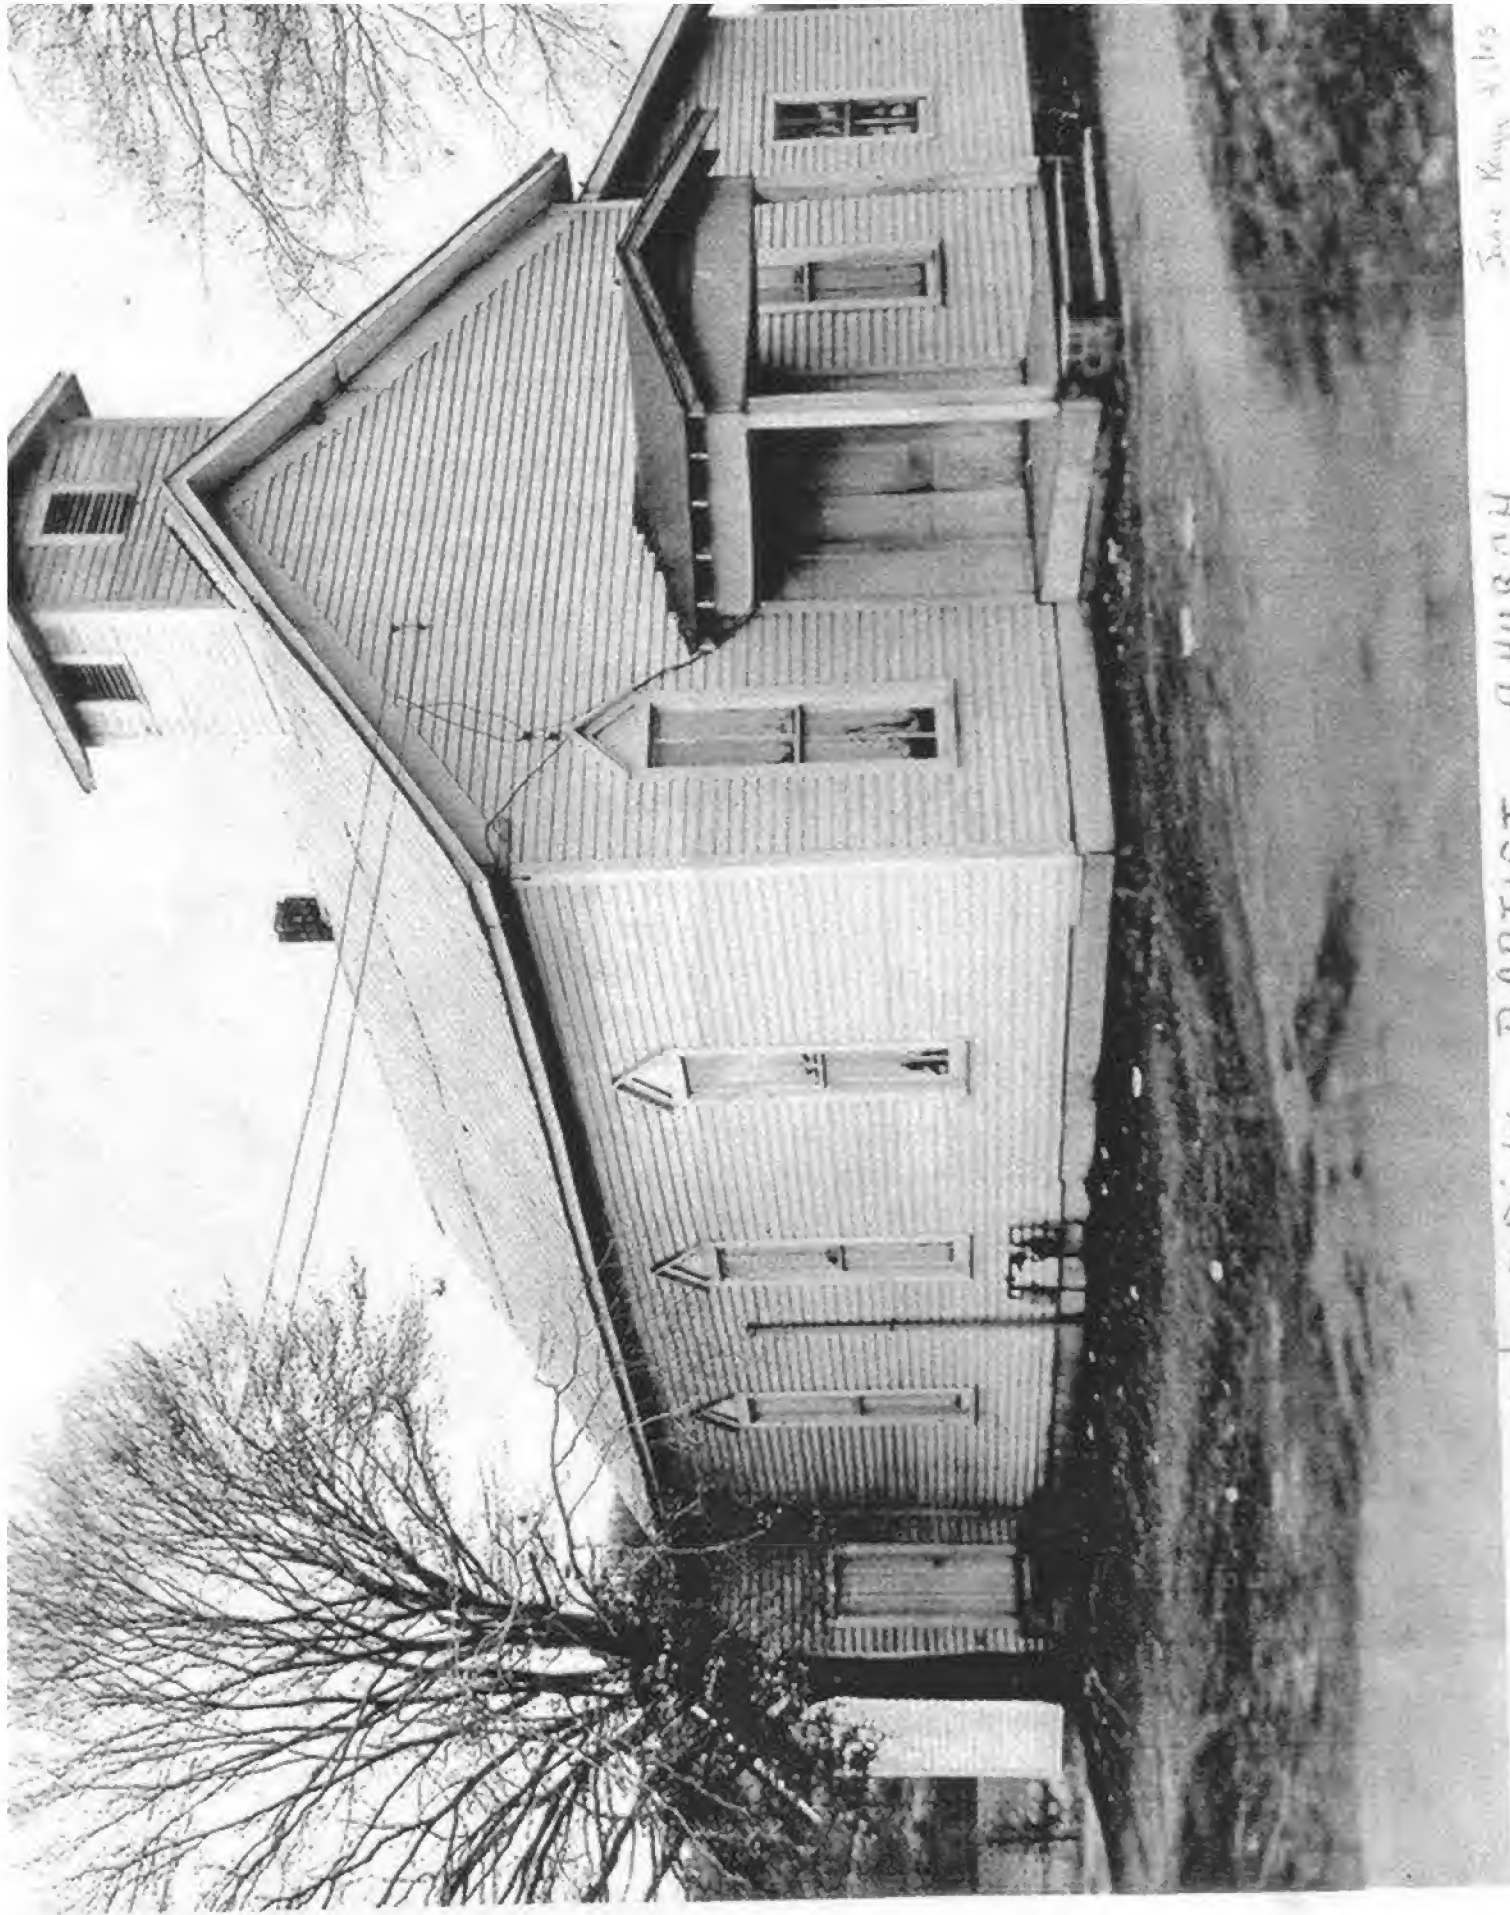

The above picture shows The Sulphur Springs Baptist Church house near Lot, Ky. where the 136th annual session of South Union Association was held on September 22-23- 1950.

This church house is one of the smallest church buildings in our Association, and it was not thought possible for this building to accomodate the large crowd of Messengers and Visitors that would attend, but through the kindness and generosity of Rev. Edward Grayson of Jellico, Tennessee, a public address system was furnished, and five or six hundred people, though they could not all get into the building, were able to hear all the proceedings of the association.

This church baptized 38 during the last associational year, which was the second largest number baptized by any church in the association.

Rev. Maude Silen is the pastor and the church was
